The American Heart Association Resource Text Book is Mandatory for the classes. If you choose not to leave a deposit for a textbook, one will be provided for you in the class.

The American Heart Association strongly promotes knowledge and proficiency in all AHA courses and has developed instructional materials for this purpose. Use of these materials in an educational course does not represent course sponsorship by the AHA. Any fees charged for such a course, except for a portion of fees needed for AHA course materials, do not represent income to the AHA.
